Dear Ms. Riddle:

It is a pleasure to invite you to continue working with us in our Visiting Professor Program at The University of Arizona College of Education. The Arizona Board of Regents Conditions of Faculty Service governs your assignment as a nontenure-eligible Teacher-in-Residence and Assistant Professor of Practice in the Department of Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies. The appointment will be for the 2014-2015 academic year. As a participant in the Visiting Professor Program, your employment will remain with the Tucson Unified School District, as described in the accompanying Intergovernmental Agreement Amendment.

You are being recommended for reappointment because of your exceptional academic and professional qualifications and your extensive experience in Early Childhood Education. The Department Head of Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies will determine your specific assignments and responsibilities. At a minimum, you will serve as in instructor in teacher education courses, supervise student teachers, provide assistance with curriculum design and implementation and work with the Department to enhance collaborations with your home school district.

If you agree to the conditions of employment outlined in this letter and the conditions of the enclosed Intergovernmental Agreement Amendment between the Arizona Board of Regents on behalf of the University of Arizona and the Tucson Unified School District of Pima County, please sign and return page two of this letter to the Department Head. This offer and your subsequent reappointment are contingent on approval by the President and all parties listed in the Intergovernmental Agreement Amendment.

University regulations require that all appointed personnel be evaluated annually. Consequently, your performance will be assessed by a peer review committee and the Director of the Elementary and Early Childhood Programs during the Spring semester. Continued appointment in the Visiting Professor Program may be possible; however, reappointment is contingent upon excellent performance, on-going program initiatives, and availability of funds. A teacher-in-residence and assistant professor of practice appointment may be renewed no more than once

Please accept my warmest congratulations on continued employment as a Teacher-in-Residence/Assistant Professor of Practice. Your participation is crucial to maintain excellence in teacher preparation. All involved believe you will be a valuable addition to the instructional staff for the coming year. I look forward to your response and sincerely hope you will agree to continue.

Sincerely,

Bruce Johnson
Professor and Department Head
