

Get Involved in Tucson Public Schools

A collaborative planning process is underway at Tucson USD to create a strategic Boundary Review Plan to help integrate schools.

Strategies to achieve this may include attendance boundary changes, pairing and clustering of schools (which will result in shared attendance areas), magnet schools and programs, and open enrollment.

We invite you to participate in this community-driven process by providing information, ideas and insights to help develop the Boundary Review Plan. Get involved today!

Share your perspective and opinions at one of the three public regional meetings.

(The same information will be available at each meeting so you only need to attend one.)
