Program Overview (600 character limit)

The 57 Bus: A True Story of Two Teenagers and the Crime That Changed Their Lives is a compelling, sometimes emotional nonfiction story of a 2013 assault in Oakland, California. The story is thought-provoking and provides great discussion points about gender, the criminal justice system, and empathy for others.

Program of Study (400 character limit)

ELA

Justification for Book Request (400 character limit)

There is greater interest among TUSD teachers and students to explore issues using contemporary novels. Identity, Facing Adversity and Being a Hero are 10th grade themes. The book solicits necessary conversations about relevant social issues facing out students today, as well how to navigate high schools as challenging places in a challenging time of their lives.

Description of Text (400 character limit)

This nonfiction account is based on the New York Times Magazine story that journalist, novelist, and children's author Dashka Slater wrote about a 2013 assault that occurred when two teens were riding home from school on THE 57 BUS in Oakland, California.
